

Hello everyone!

A new year has started and hopefully a new Era after all the turbulence during the last years around the masters. I can assure you that the executive board members have been working hard until the end of the year 2010, many emails between all the Board, even during the Christmas and the New Year.

Now we hope that we have put all the loose ends together and can see a better future. The board is stronger and all the members understand that to be a part of it, they must work.

I send all the Board a big thank you for their trust and I hope you will all invest the same trust in me until the 2012 elections. I assure you I will do my best and I know that with a good board can be achieved, and I know that we never had so strong a board as now.

The strength and the competence of the board can be seen at the highest level at all the competitions, I think and I hope everybody agrees with me. To the end we are there for all the lifters around the world who trust us to do a good job and not let them down.

I wish everybody to have a great year 2011 and to be healthy and to meet on the lifting stage in good shape.

Best regards,
Jan Hinrichsen – IWF Masters Chairman
